Involved in e-Learning Projects?

Need to be aware of the standards that allow computer based learning systems and materials to work together?

The CETIS Special Interest Groups can help:

- Interpret the standards and specifications
- Demonstrate practical solutions for using standards
- Provide forums to share experiences
- Create partnerships for further projects

Groups have been established for the FE and HE communities to cover:

- Assessment and tests
- Content
- Management Information Systems
- Learner information
- Accessibility
- Metadata
- Application of standards in FE

Most have termly meetings and are very informal, friendly and welcome new members from FE and HE.
